

Facepoint®
Picture intelligence

Paris, May 2018

---

Facepoint is a startup founded in November 2017. The company is specialized in Crimotech and risk analysis subjects for compliance purposes. Facepoint has created a global biometric database of heightened risk individuals and entities subjected to increased scrutiny in the context of the fight against money laundering and terrorist financing.

Facepoint is looking for an IT PRODUCTION AND INTEGRATION MANAGER in its head office in Paris.

Contrat term :

- Permanent contract

Job description :

- The IT Integration and Production Manager designs, implements, orchestrates, supervises and – when necessary – operates various data collection and data processing pieces of software belonging to the company's production pipelines.
- He leverages in-house proprietary as well as open-source technologies into a flexible and robust workflow system.
- He/she takes on responsibility for the daily on-time delivery of the data consumed by the company's human annotators to perform their daily duties.
- He/she takes on responsibility for the proper execution of all required automated tasks on the results of human-produced data (plausibility controls, ETL, backups, etc.)
- He/she ensures proper technical integration of customer-oriented interfaces and IT-services developed in house or by 3rd parties.
- He/she ensures that all necessary measures are taken, at production level, to meet the company's standards on information quality and security.
- He/she ensures an optimal usage of the available computing infrastructure, and elaborate recommendations for its continuous maintenance and upgrade with service continuity and performance in mind.

Required skills and experience:

- Degree in IT engineering or hard science.
- 3-5 years former experience in an IT production-related role, including demonstrated scripting and coding activities.

- User orientation work ethics.
- Good command of English, spoken and written.
- Rigorous and structured mind willing to exercise critical thinking and make original, decisive contributions to the growth of a young and ambitious company.

Salary :

- Depending on experience and qualifications.

Should you be interested in joining an experienced and highly motivated team of founders to exercise this role, please send your CV and cover letter to M. Martory at the following e-mail address contact@facepoint.co mentioning the reference INTPRODHD-2018.